while pursuing a lead on what we suspect is a cyber espionage case, involving her beloved chestnut horse with a white stripe on his face and a white sock, photo of said horse will be provided to the Agent who takes on the case of bringing Anderson back, this also involves intel that could compromise multiple threat actors, but contact has since been lost.

Objective:

1. Identify the agent's codename from intercepted comms which you should have managed to get earlier
2. Recover the corrupted PDF hidden in the intercepted Wireshark capture.
3. Trace her last known digital trail to the transport hub she fled from.
4. Reconstruct the full mission log from fragmented evidence to determine her extraction point.

Clue: If you can where Huey was last seen, you can get clues from his owners as to Anderson's whereabouts Time is not your ally. Saddle up and good luck the operation officially starts now
